From the US originally I grew up in the Ozarks of Missouri where there remains many native traditions of herbal medicine and wild craft. Much of this is conserved at the famous School of the Ozarks which, unfortunately, I did not attend.

I attended the university and obtained a BA Hons in English literature. Moved to Australia with Rod Brownsey and became the mother of Daniel and Sam Brownsey. I took Australian Citizenship in 1993. Studied homeopathy at the Southbank Institute of TAFE for four years;obtaining an Adv Dip in Health Science Homeopathy. Two years later a B.A. in Health Science (Comp med) from Charles Stuart University.

I have been in practice since 2001, Ironbark Homeopathy in Redland Bay, Qld.

I am also a Bowen work practitioner and have special interest in all bio-energetic therapies especially the correlation of colour/light and tone.
